IN SOCIETY CIRCLES.

Weddings Prospective, and Others That Have Occurred.

GENERAL NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Personal Items of Interest About Topeka People and Visitors in Town.

The officers of the Equal Suffrage association are soliciting members in order to carry on the campaign with proper enthusiasm. The women who are on the platform for suffrage are like all other speakers—they do not work for love, and the suffrage association has been to considerable expense. Every woman who becomes a member swells the financial condition just 50 cents, and the association is "hard up." Susan B. Anthony and Captain J. G. Waters have been invited to make speeches in Metropolitan hall the night before the election, and on that night the town will be filled with slips upon which will be printed "Vote for the amendment." If hard work counts for anything the suffragists of Topeka will accomplish much.

LADIES SOCIETY BALL.

Locomotive Firemen's Auxiliary Have a Successful Dance Last Night.

Fairy May Lodge No. 30, of the ladies society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen gave its second annual ball at Hamilton hall last night and there were nearly one hundred couples present. The evening was very pleasantly spent. The committee on arrangements consisted of Mrs. R. Ash, Mrs. E. D. Webb and Mrs. Will Sherman. The reception committee was as follows: Mrs. K. Tobias, Mrs. R. Barnes, Mrs. E. Gonsolly, Mrs. J. Celly, Mrs. J. Galletty, Mrs. E. Whitcomb, Mrs. C. Boeler, Mrs. H. Chapman and Miss Grace Galletty. The floor committee consisted of Messrs. Bernard Tobias, James Galletty, Robert Barnes, Harry Stillman and Charley Boeler.

Fairy May Lodge was named after Past President Mrs. E. D. Webb's little girl, and is only a little more than one year old. It now has twenty-six members. Its present officers are: Mrs. C. Barnes, president; Mrs. Laura Berlin, vice president; Mrs. Minnie Sherman, secretary; and Mrs. J. Galletty, treasurer. The lodge meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W. hall, at 418 Kansas avenue.

THINGS ONE HEARS.

Caught on the Wing or Overheard About Town.

A man in town says that after he has bought the house and the stuff for dinner, that he has to ask his wife's consent to invite a friend up to eat it.

A young man in commenting upon one of the approaching weddings the other day to an intimate friend remarked discontentedly: "Well, I never thought he took much stock in her," whereupon his friend smiled knowingly and replied: "Well, perhaps he didn't until he heard that her 'pa' value was way up in the thousands."

So the women of Topeka had to form a league of one hundred to wear trousers, and here, in Topeka, the women are wearing trousers. A girl has had about this two years arrayed in Persian trousers. It is true that she is pretty, and it is utterly impossible for any dress reform league should imagine one hundred pretty women.

Honesty or pretty, these one hundred mythical women are evidently frequenting the back streets. A suitable reward will be given to the person who can find half a hundred women in Topeka pretty or otherwise, who have adopted the reform dress.

Jet fringes are announced as a coming terror, and once more milady will produce a clatter as she moves along the street. What with the rustling of the silk lining, the crackling of the petticoat and the rattle of the jet fringe that is stylish on the skirt, how lovely, woman will be as noisy as an electric fan.

There were about thirty friends and relatives present at the ceremony, and after the couple had received their congratulations a lunch was served. The bride's gown was of cream albatross, elaborately trimmed in lace, and she carried a bunch of bridal roses. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers have commenced housekeeping in a cozy cottage at 1919 Kansas avenue.

One young woman whose wedding was set for November, has postponed it because, as she says, "it's such a common occurrence that people don't pay enough attention to make it worth while."

A first class cafe has been a long felt want in this city. Women have complained that they wanted a place where they were down town shopping where they could get a light lunch. Shop and office girls have felt the need of such a place and business men who get tired of lunch counters have wondered why a cafe was not opened in this city. T. R. Hopkins has come to the front and has opened a cafe where he is serving oysters in every style, chicken, lobster, shrimp and potato salad, coffee, cocoa, chocolate, cayton tea and milk with wafers, sandwiches, etc.

THE FLAMBEAU PARADE.
A Magnificent Show Made By Shawnee's Big Club.

There was a big flambeau parade last night. All the clubs in the city turned out with torches, and headed by Jackson's military band, marched from Third street to Tenth on Harrison, and then north on Kansas avenue to the court house. The clubs were in command of A. L. Brooke and were as follows:

Scandinavian Flambeau club, Curtis Flambeau club of North Topeka, Mission Township Mounted Flambeau club, North Topeka Colored Flambeau club, Third Ward Republican Flambeau club, Topeka Flambeau club, and Curtis-Gardner Flambeau club.

The parade was halted in front of the Journal and Capital offices, and three cheers were given for both papers and their editors. Capt. A. M. Fuller then sang the popular campaign song, "Hurrah for Morris and Kansas," all the members of the clubs joining in the chorus. One of the stanzas is as follows:

'Tis time to down the State house crowd and put them all to rout,
Calamity must walk the plank, Reform must take about,
With Peter's whiskers for a broom we'll sweep Hurrah for Morris and for Kansas.

At the court house the band played and speeches were made by James H. Guy and Col. A. B. Jettmore. A very large number of spectators were on the street, and the display was the finest of the kind ever seen in Topeka.

Agricultural Question and Socialism.

FRANKFURT-ON-THINE-MAIN, Oct. 26.—At today's session of the Socialist congress the delegates adopted a motion to the effect that the agrarian question is a necessary constituent of the socialists' programme, and that it could only be solved by giving back the soil with the means of labor to the producers now cultivating the land as paid laborers. The next social congress will form a political programme in regard to land.

STYLISH EARLY WINTER COSTUMES.

The gown on the right is of pheasant cloth over an apple green silk skirt. The bows are made of pompadour ribbon. The costume on the left is of gray diagonal wool with a white cloth waist and figure, embroidered in Persian colors. The bows and ends are of dark blue velvet ribbon, the ends being finished with fringe.

Emancipating the English Woman.

The effect of recent statutes in England as to the right of married women to hold and convey property has been a subject of much discussion in English law journals. The Justice of the Peace, in an article on "Female Trustees," reviews the legislation of recent years and shows how one and another restriction has been removed, so that a married woman can now act as trustee or executor with almost as much freedom as a man can.

Under the common law the husband held the property and was also liable for breaches of trust committed by the wife, so that there were grave objections to allowing her to act as a trustee. The present liberal acts regarding the property of married women allow a woman to make contracts and to hold trusts free from the control of her husband and without rendering him liable for her acts if she should prove dishonest. The British parliament is in some respects conservative in dealing with property rights, but has taken an advanced ground in relation to the rights of married women in the management of property independent of control by the husband.

A Public Spirited Woman.

Mrs. D. C. Heath, wife of the Boston publisher, has suggested a plan for a public improvement in Newton which meets with great favor. It provides for the laying out and improving of a broad boulevard across the city and a park. Mrs. Heath has presented a petition to the city authorities signed by prominent citizens, who agree to contribute a certain sum if the plan is accepted and the work completed. Mrs. Heath is a southern woman. She came north soon after the war, completed a college course and engaged in educational work. From 1871 to 1876 she lectured before teachers' institutes in New York. After coming to Boston, about 15 years ago, she prepared a series of language lessons for children. She is now at work upon a small book on the "Annals of Washington," and she has sent a petition to congress to have the historic places of the capital marked with tablets.—Boston Letter.

The Undraped Skirt.

The plain undraped skirt will be the favorite this winter, as the overskirt has not proved as popular as was expected, there being very few modistes who could manage the double arrangement as gracefully as the less complicated form. Flat folds and bands are used in preference to fluffier trimmings, but what the skirt lacks in befrilled fullness the bodice amply makes up in its extra dressiness, as there is no ornamentation missing so far as that is concerned. The sleeves are not quite as large as formerly, but make up for width in the matter of greater length, coming over the knuckles frequently, and they are therefore a little larger at the wrists than formerly. The double puff has been introduced instead of the large single one, and it is really a very pretty style if managed well.—Fashion Journal.

A Purchasing Agent.

Mrs. C. C. Robinson is the third woman in Cincinnati to enter the new and pleasant business of purchasing agent. One often does better, even though she may live in a city, to secure the services of a purchasing agent in buying wedding or traveling or housekeeping outfits, as constant practice makes the agent a better judge of goods than one not in the business can possibly be.

Mrs. Priscilla Riley of Longton was recently examined by the Kansas state board of pharmacy and was granted a certificate as a registered pharmacist.

Miss Frances E. Willard is the first maiden lady who has ever celebrated her fifty-fifth birthday in a public manner.

Miss Lulu Mackey was recently appointed official court stenographer of Trumbull county, O.

THE FASHION PLATE.

Skirt trimmings are everywhere visible on dressy gowns, but they are never very wide.

The season's new tweeds and home-spuns woven from the soft undyed wool are the very best of their kind.

Capes have lost nothing of their vogue, being recognized universally as the most useful if not the most ornamental garment extant.

Some of the heavier camel's hair goods, chevrons and English tailor cloths have the popular fringe effect in stripes, dots and plaids.

Silk is destined to be a very popular fabric during the winter for smart gowns for visiting, teas, church and theater wear, etc.

Gray, old rose and pale rosy violet shades and light woods, like fayetta and veiling, compose some new effective to-lets for demidress wear.

The crystal bengalines that are sold at such reasonable prices this season are a most excellent purchase for the making of pretty afternoon dresses.

The new French swallowtail basques are smart when worn by slender women. The seams up the back of a golden brown cloth coat of this description are lapped and machine stitched.

The tailor costumes for utility uses—shopping, traveling, walking, etc.—are made with round skirts that just clear the ground all around, either in gored shape or in modified bell form.

Black moire silks striped with gold, nasturtium red, old rose, magenta, etc., are made up with soft lustrous satins the color of the stripe, these accessories draped with heavy black silk laces or veiled with fine arabesque designs of cut jet.—New York Post.
